How to register for OpenAthens,
activate your account,
create a password
and sign in for the first time.

Introduction

OpenAthens is a password system which began life in UK universities and has been adopted by the NHS to allow entitled people to access certain paid-for online resources from any internet-connected device. If you work for the NHS in England or are a student on placement within an NHS Trust organisation, you will definitely be eligible for an NHS OpenAthens password. Many others qualify, particularly if they are caring for NHS patients: A full eligibility list is available at: <http://www.nice.org.uk/about/what-we-do/evidence-services/journals-and-databases/openathens/openathens-eligibility>

The main resources you can get with your OpenAthens password are:

- Searchable literature databases for locating (primarily) journal articles.
- The full-text content of hundreds of healthcare journals

There are direct links to full-text articles from the databases when you do a search; and items which are in your local NHS Library (or Libraries) are also flagged up. If a full text copy of an article is not available through your OpenAthens password or in hardcopy within your local NHS Library, the Library staff should be able to obtain a copy for you via their Inter-Library Loan service.

For information and training on how to search the Healthcare Databases, please contact the Library staff who will be more than happy to help.

Registering:

When registering for an OpenAthens password it is best to do so via an NHS internet connection. This will enable you to create your username and password instantly, whereas registration from a device that isn't linked to the NHS could take up to 15 days.

Step One:

Go to the Yeovil Academy Library Blog:

<http://yeovilacademylibrary.com/athens-password/> following this link will take you to a screen that looks like the following:

Step Two:

After clicking on the 'OpenAthens Registration' link you will be taken to the screen below.

Register for an OpenAthens account

Already have an account? Login

Please note that you need to activate your account before you can use it. Please read the information on the page you'll see after you have submitted this form, and check your inbox for your activation email.

Help me to complete this form More Information

Please enter your name

Please enter your professional / work email address

Please enter your organisation

Full work address

Work telephone number

Please enter the name of your department, ward, GP practice or clinic

If we do not recognise your email address or the location of where you are registering from, you will not automatically be eligible to access online resources. An OpenAthens administrator will assess your details and decide whether you meet the eligibility criteria. You should if possible:

- Enter a work email address
- Register from your place of work

If you cannot find the name of your organisation you should try one from the following list and include your region or area of England.

- GPs and practice staff
- CCG staff
- Public health organisations
- Non-NHS healthcare provider organisations
- Social care provider organisations
- Commissioning organisations, or
- Other commissioning organisations
- Other eligible staff

You can then begin filling out the registration form. If you have any problems completing the registration form, please contact either your local NHS Library or your local OpenAthens administrator, which can be found by clicking on 'more information'.

NB: The email address you are asked to provide does not have to be an NHS one but you will need access to it in order to complete the registration process so please chose a current one.

To find your organisation simply start typing in the first few letters of the organisations name e.g. 'yeo' will find Yeovil District Hospital NHS Foundation Trust, which will then appear in a drop down box.

Please enter your organisation

Register

Once you have filled in your details and ticked to say that you have read and accepted the terms and conditions and the privacy notice, you are able to register.

After you have submitted your registration form you will be given a username which you will need (along with the password that you will create later) in order to login.

If you struggle to remember your username you can use the email address that you registered with to login instead.

Step Four:

You now need to look in your emails for a message from OpenAthens. Although the email should be sent through straight away there can sometimes be a bit of a delay. So don't worry if it doesn't appear in your emails instantly.

The email will be sent from 'Eduserv Athens' and the subject will be "NHS OpenAthens account created – activation required"

You will need to use the activation link that is contained within the email to create your password.

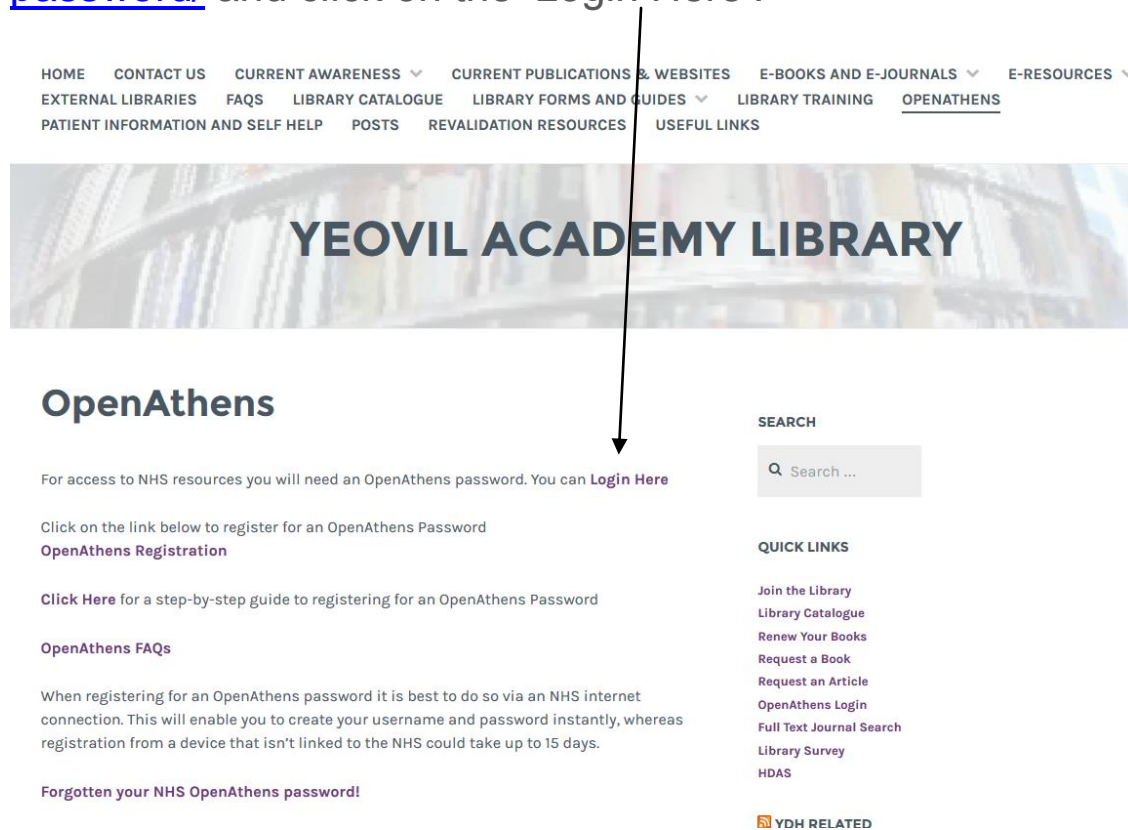

Once you have clicked the link, a screen will appear which will allow you to create your password. It is important to make sure that your password contains 8-20 characters, upper and lower case letters as well as numbers that don't follow a sequence.

Step Five:

Once you have submitted your password and it has met the criteria, your account will be activated.

Using Your Password In Future
